Salem Factory and the Wool-Growers.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I notice an article in your weekly issue of the 20th ult., signed "Fair Play," which contains a portion of special pleading scarcely consistent with fair play. The writer glosses over the matter of prices paid by the Salem Company—prices in the Atlantic market and premium on gold, and shrinkage by washing, in such a manner as to leave the impression that there is something which it is desirable to cover up, without speaking falsely. I have sold wool to the Salem Company every year, since the enterprise commenced, and though the company did pay 22 to 27 cents per pound for wool during the first of the past two years, yet their prices during the last year, ranged from 18 to 23 cents per pound, half in cash and half in trade, and I was informed by the agent of the company, that that was the maximum price he was paying. The uncommonly high retail prices at which the factory sold their goods, drew down the actual value received for wool thus sold, to nearly or quite as low a figure as that given by a writer in the Oregon Statesman, of the 15th, viz: 18½ cents per pound. In proof that this was near the coin price at the factory, I will state that a gentleman who has been engaged in driving sheep from the upper portion of this valley, to Portland and Victoria markets, sold the wool from one drove to the company, and having no use for their "store pay," received 18 cents per pound as the highest cash price of last year. The price offered now, (20 cents in trade) when the customary retailing profits (25 per cent) are deducted, brings the real sum paid, down to 15 cents, and in the case of the Salem factory, to so much less as their retailing profits are more than those of merchants. There is a cheat and deception in quoting wool at goods prices, which imposes upon the unsuspecting farmers, and keeps buyers from a distance from entering into competition in the purchase of wool here. The latter class cannot know what the difference between the nominal and the real price is.

"Fair Play" writes pleadingly about the factory being unable to pay cash for wool now on account (it is intimated) of being embarrassed by the expenses incurred in building a costly flouring mill. He seems posted. Does he know that the company's agent did, at the last January meeting, state "that all things counted, the company had made enough to meet all obligations incurred by the erection of the flouring mill and other improvements and had an overplus of $6,000?" Does he not know that with all that property to back it with the stock of goods unsold (stated by some of the employees of the factory to be $80,000 worth) and with $90,000 of credits out, most of which will be paid in wool, that the company could, if it agreed with the designs of those who control its affairs, easily get money to pay for the balance of the wool it will need? Or is "Fair Play" unwittingly made the apologist of some of the company in suggesting that "farmers can probably sell their wool to almost any merchant in the valley at twenty cents in payment of their 'store bills' as the company is supposed to take the wool from such merchants in payment of debts due them, or in exchange for their goods?"

"Fair-Play" may not be aware that the credit system he suggests is liable to be used for the foulest of purposes. To get men into debt is an insidious means of controlling them. Three of the members of the Salem Company are leading politicians of a party whose recent history has shown it not very scrupulous in the use of means to attain its ends. He may not be aware that the scheme of importing voters from Portland into Polk county last [illegible] year, had its [illegible] directing head amongst the Salem Company.—There are few reflecting men in this latitude who have any doubt upon that point, however. He may live too far from Salem to note actions of this character; but can he, as a lover of "Fair-Play," inform the wool-growers why the company's agent lately issued circulars to its merchant customers, proposing to sell them goods under false invoices? Does he not think that merchants whose business virtue is so easy that they will receive goods on a proposal to remit five per cent. of the invoiced price, would become active agents for a remittance of fifty per cent. of such price? If he does not, he has a better opinion of such merchants than I. WOOL-GROWER.

San Francisco—Its Oregon Trade

The journals published in the interior of California have long been complaining that San Francisco has increased in wealth at the expense of the prosperity of the remainder of the State. Complaints of this kind will do nothing to check the tendency of this centralization of wealth. Capital always seeks investment where profits are greatest. San Francisco occupies a position from which at present it commands not only the interior trade of California and Nevada but also that of the whole Pacific coast. That city has been built in part by Oregon and the northern coast as well as by the State in which it is situated. If the interior of California can justly complain of having been robbed of its wealth by San Francisco, there is an equal or greater reason why Oregon should attribute its slow development to the same cause.

The traffic with Oregon is one of the most important branches of the trade of San Francisco. Not only is Oregon supplied from that source but also all the mining regions of the adjoining Territories. It has been a constant habit with San Franciscans to belittle the importance of the trade we furnish them. But it is these streams of wealth, of which Oregon supplies one, flowing into San Francisco, that makes that city what it is. Of the traffic that has been carried on between that city and ourselves, the profits have not been mutual. Our remedy does not lie in querulousness or in appeals to San Francisco for help but in our own efforts to make ourselves as far independent as possible by taking our trade into our own hands. There is capital enough here to do this, and until it is done, Oregon will be but an adjunct of San Francisco. So far, San Francisco has absorbed our wealth without yielding us any return. There has been no such thing as a balance of trade. All the profits accruing from business have remained there. Produce sent from here has had to pass through so many hands before it could reach its consumers, that it commanded only nominal prices. Dealers, shippers and buyers have worked in the interest of San Francisco, and the result to Oregon is the slow process of bleeding during the continuance of which the State can not recover.

The remedy is simple and entirely within our power. By refusing to go longer in leading strings and by venturing to attempt something for herself Oregon can exchange her present condition for one of active prosperity.

BRILLIANT AS EVER.—There is depravity, but no danger in the babble of the mad fool who says he is glad Lincoln is killed; there is food for graver thought, there is a call for sterner reprobation, in the pious suggestion that our good President has been providentially called hence in order that the leading rebels may receive that condign punishment which his kindness of heart would have averted.

In citing the foregoing paragraph from the New York Tribune, Pat Malone sees an opportunity to ring one more change on the word "Puritan," as he successfully perpetrates an interpolation, so as to make it read, "There is a call for sterner reprobation in the pious Puritan suggestion," &c. Now, "if great things with small, may be compared," we will call attention to the coincidence, that as Cato never delivered an address without introducing the phrase, delenda est Carthago, so the leader of the Oregon "Democracy" is never known to discourse upon any subject without making the word "Puritan," the burden of his speech. The ingenuity and concinnity of the various applications he makes of the term, are truly wonderful. The word "Puritan," may not be a term of his own coining, but it must be acknowledged that he has carried the use of it to a higher degree of perfection than the rude and boorish Abolitionists have ever done. His inventive powers enable him to interlard his every utterance with this excellently chosen word. It is about the only adjective he uses and he can never be at a loss for a descriptive term, so long as his matchless versatility can devise modes in which to employ this word of remarkable flexibility and extensive application.

MR. JOHNSON ON THE FOURTH OF MARCH.—The Government at has evidence, showing that the conspirators who took the life of Lincoln were instructed to use the "blade, the pistol or the bowl," and that it is confessed that "the bowl" had been tried and had failed. It is no ludicrous supposition as some would insist, that Mr Johnson was poisoned on the fourth of March. It is known that the plot was to have exploded on that day, and that some trifling event caused the postponement of the chief parts of the nefarious scheme. Their purpose was to kill the President and Vice President at the same time, and the opportunity to assassinate the former on that day was not presented. There is every probability that Mr. Johnson in conformity with the plan was drugged with some poison, and that he owes his escape to the fact that his powerful constitution triumphed over the deadly potion. In corroboration of this view a New York paper says:

We may state that in conversation, a few days ago, with ex Mayor Rice, of Boston, now a member of Congress, and who was in the Senate on the 4th of March, he stated to us that Mr Johnson did not act like a man under the influence of liquor on the occasion referred to; on the contrary, his appearance, conduct and language were characteristic rather of a man nervously disordered. His eyes stared wildly and his remarks were pointless, disjointed and incoherent. There is an eloquence and a flow of language in the intoxicated man which Mr Johnson did not exhibit. Besides Mr Rice further said that Mr Johnson in administering the oath to Senators walked down the steps of the platform and up again without the least sign of instability or staggering, a feat which every one knows it would be impossible for a drunken man to perform.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN NEW YORK.—The Constitution of New York, adopted in 1846, provides as follows:

Every male citizen &c. &c. shall be entitled to vote &c. &c. but no man of color unless he shall have been for three years a citizen of this State and for one year next preceding any election shall be seized and possessed of a freehold estate of the value of $250 over and above all debts and incumbrances charged thereon and shall have been actually rated and paid a tax thereon shall be entitled to vote.

This partial enfranchisement of the negroes of New York was provided for by the Democratic party. A few years ago that party had never thought of questioning the propriety of giving the negro the right of suffrage. Consistency is nothing but its proneness to inconsistent with [illegible] its action.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY.—A new building is in process of erection at Forest Grove, the place where this University is located. This will supply in part the growing wants of the institution. We learn that it is in contemplation to erect a large and substantial college structure as soon as arrangements now making for that purpose are completed.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE [illegible]]

DATES TO JUNE 4.

Rebels Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Col W. H. Taylor, Gen Lee's Adjutant General, Surgeon W. J. Moore and about fifty other rebel soldiers at present residing at Norfolk, Va., were summoned to appear [illegible] District Court this morning [illegible] against R. E. Lee [illegible] the charge of [illegible]

The Herald's dispatch says Charles O'Conor has applied to the War Department for permission to [illegible] Davis his professional services [illegible] in the indictment found in the District Court. The President has decided that O'Conor's application be granted to the full [illegible] constitutional provisions which secure the [illegible] persons the assistance of counsel may be [illegible]

A Washington special says: The movement of Sherman's army to Louisville is actively progressing.

The Times special says Longstreet's business in Washington is to make special application to the President for pardon and restoration to full civil rights. He has already taken the amnesty oath.

The Herald's Richmond correspondent says Ex Governor Smith of Va., is roaming the woods back of Staunton, and is determined to fight it out if it takes all summer. He has a body guard of guerrillas with him.

[illegible] has been invited to Richmond by Gov. Pierpont.

It is said a large number of Mosby's men are still at large in the mountains.

Trial of Jeff. Davis.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Post's special says: The trial of Jeff Davis in the United States Court in this city will take place before a full bench consisting of Judge Carter, of Ohio, Judge Olin, of New York and Judge Wylie, of Virginia.

The Delegates of Alabama are receiving very little countenance here. The President will not count on the aid of the rebel Legislature of that State.

The Texan Expeditions.

FORTRESS MONROE, June 1.—The Texan expedition under the command of General Weitzel, which has been fitting out in this harbor during the past week is now fairly on its way to its point of designation somewhere along the coast of that State. [illegible] sailing orders were issued to the commanding officer on board of each vessel to proceed first to Mobile Bay in the vicinity of Fort Morgan, and with a view to making rendezvous at that harbor in order to coal the steamers thoroughly before proceeding further. The steamers comprising this expedition are among the largest and best adapted to a long sea voyage. The major portion of the fleet comprising some fifteen of the largest steamers has already sailed. The remainder are now lying in the roads and will sail this evening or to-morrow. Everything seems auspicious for the safety and success of the steamers with the troops in reaching the point of rendezvous within about seven days. The weather is fair.

From Savannah—Rebels under the Yoke.

NEW YORK, June 3d.—The steamer Weybosset brings Savannah dates to the 31st. The Savannah Herald says: A large public meeting was held on the night of the 30th, at which resolutions were adopted indorsing President Johnson's policy that sympathizers with secession should not be supported for office, and asking for a Military Governor for Georgia.

A correspondent of the Charleston Courier writing from Columbia under date of May 29th, says: Governor Smith has issued a notice that his functions as executive, have ceased, and the State is now in the hands of the military authorities of the United States. After issuing this notice he decamped. Couriers have been sent after him.

Mrs Davis and Mrs C. C. Clay and party, had reached Savannah.

Chief Justice Chase and party had arrived at Jacksonville, Florida.

Col Sanderson, author of the Florida Secession Ordinance had come into Jacksonville to pay his taxes.

D. L. Yulee and McCormick, also came in, they are ready to take the oath of allegiance.

Longstreet Begging for Mercy.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Commercial's dispatch says: The application of Longstreet for pardon is regarded as a test case, as to the treatment of a large number of rebel military men, included in the various Confederate armies.

Details of Kirby Smith's Surrender.

NEW YORK, June 3.—New Orleans papers contain the details of the surrender of Kirby Smith's forces. The capitulation was completed May 26th. Gen. Buckner, it appears, conducted the last capitulation as he did the first at Donelson. He showed Gen. Canby undisputable authority to act for Smith. The rebel navy was represented by Captain Carter. Gen. Dick Taylor was present. It is probable that competent Federal officers will move forward at once to occupy the principal cities of Texas. In the meantime the rebel representatives will remain in our lines to give counsel and advice as to the execution of orders, while Smith proceeds through his department to prepare the people for coming events.

A petition was in circulation in Mobile to President Johnson, for measures to bring Alabama again into the Union.

The Post's Washington special says that many leading rebels are expected at Washington to day or to-morrow under arrest.

Harris, of Maryland, found Guilty.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Herald's special says that Congressman Harris, of Maryland, who was on trial for persuading rebels of Lee's army not to take the oath of allegiance was sentenced to three years imprisonment and forfeiture of all civil rights. The President approved the findings but remitted the sentence.

The Herald's special has the following: It is believed here that the President is not in favor of negro suffrage except in some modified form, and under certain qualifications.

Why Halleck comes to California.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Commercial's special says there is much complaint of Halleck's management in Richmond. It is charged that the rebels are getting into power under his influence. These charges together with others, explain his transfer to California.

Gov. Magrath arrested—South Carolina a Suppliant.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Herald's Charleston correspondent reports the arrest of Gov Magrath at Columbia, on the 24th for high treason. He was taken to Hilton Head, and will soon be sent for trial. He surrendered quietly to Lieut Brack, who was sent to make the arrest.

Wade Hampton has escaped. His whereabouts is unknown. Before the arrest of Magrath, he published a proclamation suspending his functions as Governor of the State, and stating, that as all was over, it is the duty of the people to forbear an opposition which is hopeless, and to reconcile themselves to that submission which the Government of the United States can impose and they cannot resist. He urges them to resume their respective pursuits, and said that he was ready to answer the charges against him at any time.

Advices from New Orleans have a report that some rebel Generals requested permission of Canby to be allowed to take 20,000 of their troops across the Rio Grande into Mexico to the assistance of Juarez.

The rebel General Price had gone to Galveston. General Buckner and Brent had returned to Alexandria accompanied by Gen Herron who will arrange for the occupation of the country by the Union armies.

Gen Bailey's expedition from Mobile had arrived at Baton Rouge and well received by the people along the whole line of march. No armed bodies were seen, except a few guerrillas.

Grant's Address to the Army.

WASHINGTON, June 2d.—Gen Grant has issued the following congratulatory address to our armies:

War Department, Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C., June 2.—General Orders No. 108.—Soldiers of the armies of the United States: By your patriotic devotion to your country in the hour of danger and alarm, your magnificent fighting, your bravery and endurance, you have maintained the supremacy of the Union and the Constitution, overthrown all opposition to the enforcement of the law and of the proclamations abolishing slavery, the causes and pretexts of the rebellion, and opened the way for the authorities to restore order and inaugurate peace on a permanent and enduring basis on every foot of American soil. Your marches, sieges and battles in distance, duration, and in brilliancy will add to the annals of the world's past military achievements, and will be the patriot's precedent in the defense of liberty and right in all time to come.

In obedience to your country's call you left your homes and families and volunteered in its defense. Victory has crowned your valor and secured the purpose of your patriotic hearts, and with the gratitude of your countrymen and the highest honors you will soon be permitted to return to your homes and families, conscious of having discharged the highest duty of American citizens. To achieve these glorious triumphs and secure to yourselves and your fellow countrymen and posterity, the blessing of peaceful institutions, thousands of your gallant comrades have fallen and sealed the priceless legacy with their lives. Their graves [illegible] the gratitude of [illegible] support their stricken families.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Newbern advices of the 30th state that the proposition to pay off the national debt meets with much favor. Many business men there will take shares in it. The former citizens of Newbern are returning, [illegible] with hospitable treatment from their servants who not only relieve their wants but furnish them means to pay their taxes. The slaves who followed the army through the South are returning to their homes in large numbers, having experienced much suffering. They are satisfied there is no place like home.

NEW YORK, June 1.—A Mobile letter of May 26th gives some details of the late explosion. [illegible] buildings from St. Louis street to [illegible] Water, Commerce and Front streets were nearly all destroyed. [illegible] Wall street [illegible] distance shared the same fate.

Private dispatches quote gold in New York on the 9th of June, at 136 and 137. Sterling exchange at 110.

Foreign.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Java has arrived with dates from Liverpool to the 2d and Queenstown to the 24th of May.

The news of Mexican emigration scheme in the United States attracts attention.

The London Daily News remarks: That if Johnson intended to give France cause to declare war he would not now be disbanding armies and recalling ships. The throne of Maximilian may be endangered by the [illegible] of which Juarez may get from the American people in ways which will give Napoleon no right to remonstrate with Johnson.

The London Morning Post says: That a little information leads to the conclusion that as far as Johnson is concerned, he has no intention of interfering either in Mexican, or what is more important in Canadian affairs.

A characteristic letter from Garibaldi is published earnestly hoping for continued friendship between England and America.

Disraeli has issued an electoral manifesto for the conservatives advertising to an extension of the franchise. He goes in for the admission of almost all classes in the State.

The Paris Presse has reason to believe that the attention of the French Government is occupied with the news of the clandestine enrollments in America, and that if necessary it will adopt energetic measures against United States volunteers.

Admiral Bullet will leave Brest in the frigate Thames with instructions to be at the end of the war.

Two hundred and thirty thousand pounds sterling has arrived in England.

The French Government is much displeased at Prince Napoleon's speech at Ajaccio, Corsica.

LIVERPOOL, May 24.—It is stated that some of the French Ministers threaten to resign unless the French troops are withdrawn from Mexico.

The French Government has revoked the measure of limiting to twenty four hours the stay of American vessels in French ports.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The trial of Moses Frank, on indictment No. 4, for forging the acceptance of H. Bloomingdale & Co. to a draft drawn by his partner, Baum, in the Utah Mining Company, is proceeding in the County Court. Judge Cowles denied the motion to dismiss indictment No. 2, on which two trials have been had, and on both of which the jury disagreed. A venire was issued, returnable on Wednesday, for the retrial of the case.

Patrick Sharp who was severely kicked by a horse a few days since, died of his injuries in the County Hospital this morning. Deceased was near twenty years of age and a native of Ireland.

The rates of passage by the Moses Taylor, which sails to-morrow, are: first cabin, outside state-rooms, $100; inside, $125; second cabin, $70; steerage, $40. She carries a large number of passengers.

MARKETS.—Flour—moderate home trade demand, with special change in quotations. Napa family, in sks sold at $[illegible] per bbl. Local extras $[illegible]. First new wheat of the season, comprising 840 sks from Martinez has been received since our last. It is from Sonora seed and raised on summer-fallowed ground, quality good and held at [illegible]. Barley—we have only to note jobbing lots of old feed, $1 40@1 45, new at about $1 00@1 10 [illegible] lbs. Corn—a small lot of yellow, 8a sks $2 85 [illegible] 100 lbs. Oats dull at $1 50@1 62½ to 100 lbs.

Judge Dwinelle to-day granted Mrs Archimanderoff a divorce from her husband, J. Archimanderoff, on the ground of his extreme cruelty.

MUSEUM.

The undersigned would respectfully remind the people of Portland and public generally that he is INSURING AS GOOD PHOTOGRAPHIC WORK as can be done on the Pacific Coast AND AT AS REASONABLE RATES. Negatives preserved if requested, from which copies can be had at reduced rates. P. DALTON, Proprietor, je6tf 89 First street, Portland, Oregon.

DO YOU THINK IT WOULD BE ADvisable to inform the trading public that SHERRY IS SELLING HIS FINE STOCK OF BOOTS AND SHOES AT SAN FRANCISCO COST PRICES? An ocular demonstration will convince you that his Stock is Full and Complete. Therefore, we think that your interest would be consulted, by making a personal examination for yourselves.

DIED:

In this city, on the 12th inst., Mr. Patrick Brah[illegible]

The funeral will take place to day at 2 o'clock, from the residence of Mr McGill, corner Stark and Sixth streets.

New Discoveries on the Columbia.—The writer of the following letter, Mr. [illegible] Ferguson, is well known in Oregon and [illegible] Territory and his statements upon [illegible] just discovered may be considered per[illegible]. We have no doubt but that ex[illegible] discoveries of the precious metal will be made during the summer in that locality, and [illegible] the opinion of Mr. F. as previously given. We are indebted to Col. Rucker for the following:

COLVILLE, May [illegible]

Col. J. S. Rucker, Dear Sir:—You were no[illegible] made acquainted with the fact that some seventy-five men left Colville this [illegible] to go up the Columbia river prospecting. [illegible] Two of the party returned giving a very flattering account of the new discoveries [illegible] 20 miles above the head of the upper lake [illegible] the main Columbia they first struck a stream emptying into the Columbia on the divide between the main Columbia and the north branch. The creek is about thirty miles [illegible] with some three or more branches at its [illegible]. They found good prospects to the forks, some twenty miles from the mouth, and obtained [illegible] some of the bars as high as ten and five dollars [illegible] of dirt (but I would not believe it [illegible]) that all the dirt will pay as well. They had just discovered the creek when their [illegible] for more provisions, however, enough [illegible] having been done by the party to give them [illegible] in the richness and extent of the gold [illegible] in that locality, it being in the same range of [illegible] Kootenai, and the mines all [illegible] had prospected some three or four creeks [illegible] mentioned and found gold in all but one of them. I have received a [illegible] of the gold taken out there and shall send [illegible] Walla Walla for Assay. It is [illegible] of Kootenai dust, but a shade light[illegible]. You may expect to hear of more [illegible] regarding the Columbia mines, as they will be developed.

I remain yours most truly,
DANIEL H. FERGUSON.

[illegible] to the map, we find the new region [illegible] 51° above the head of the upper [illegible] of the Columbia river, and some distance be[illegible] the Great Canyon. The spirit of inquiry [illegible] of developing the regions of Koote[illegible] the Columbia, Coeur d'Alene, and numerous [illegible] lately discovered in that section, we'll [illegible] means of opening a much favored spot for [illegible], the miner, and ultimately the [illegible] it will be utterly impossible for any [illegible] the benefits that must flow from [illegible]. We are still living in ignorance [illegible] yet comprehend the great extent of [illegible] about there, which is to become the rich[illegible] of all points in the hemisphere.

[illegible] The above was unavoidably crowded out [illegible] yesterday's issue, since when additional in[illegible] relating to the same discoveries has [illegible]. The news was brought to Colville [illegible] Ladeur and Henry Kord, who also [illegible] there is a number of streams on the [illegible] believed to be rich in gold. The new [illegible] from Colville about 225 miles. [illegible] now building at Little Dalles [illegible] by Capt. Len White, is designed [illegible] the Columbia quite near to the new [illegible].

White House.—The W. Adams is now in [illegible] and is just the place to enjoy the open air [illegible] night a somewhat novel rig out with four [illegible] and carrying fourteen passengers, left [illegible] this road for the White House. Arriving [illegible] of mine host Mr. Williams appeared to [illegible] notwithstanding the crowd, those present [illegible] will entitle to credit for their good judgment [illegible] there is no better place in the world about [illegible] than the White House for an hour's recrea[illegible]. [illegible] has expended considerable money [illegible] the past winter and spring, and has now a [illegible] establishment. The place is divided off giving [illegible] to accommodate any number that may hap[illegible] there at the same time. His reception rooms, [illegible] are two suites, parlors, bed rooms, dining [illegible] ball, bar room, and the culinary depart[illegible] quite an establishment alone. Then there [illegible] sheds for teams, the gardens and the various [illegible] which adds greatly to the resort. Gymnastics [illegible] to form the chief feature of diversion, while [illegible] when one is disposed to return, an obliging [illegible] in readiness to bring up his team, when away [illegible] for a most elegant drive of six or seven miles, if [illegible] of Saturday evening, back again to Portland.

Ward Nominations.—The qualified electors of the [illegible] in their several precincts last evening, and nomi[illegible] the following named gentlemen:

[illegible]—By acclamation, John McCraken, A. M. [illegible] Schuyler, Jr.

[illegible]—By ballot, K. A. Morgan, A. Rosenblatt, [illegible]

[illegible]—By ballot, J. P. O. Lownsdale, E. M. [illegible] and O. P. S. Plummer.

[illegible] Ward meeting organized at the Engine [illegible] No. 2, by electing J. W. Cook Chair[illegible] L. Norden Secretary. The Second Ward [illegible] at the Council Chamber by choosing J. [illegible] Chairman, and S. A. Moreland and H. K. [illegible] Secretaries. The Third Ward meeting organ[illegible] Honestly choosing John Carson Chairman [illegible] Secretary. The following gentlemen [illegible] Ward committee in the Third Ward, [illegible] ensuing year: Messrs. Thos. Frazar, L. J. [illegible], W. F. Wilcox.

[illegible] Rain.—The fall of rain is measured by [illegible] of inches, and though the amount [illegible] regularly reported, but few persons have a defi[illegible] extent. The Registrar General of England [illegible] calculating the weight of water per cubic [illegible] of such inches in an acre of ground, [illegible] every inch of rain that falls, puts [illegible] one hundred and thirteen tons (2,000 [illegible]) of water on an acre. In other words, every [illegible] of an inch of rain we have puts [illegible] tons per acre.

[illegible]—Charley Lawrence created [illegible] by a desperate resistance of the Police [illegible] Front street. He had been indulging in [illegible] and insulting language toward Officer [illegible] Marshal Hoyt, and then Officer Saunders [illegible] to be a virtue, and it became [illegible] him into custody, and he was securely [illegible] in jail after a most desperate resistance [illegible] each of the officers' above named re[illegible] or bruises.

[illegible]—Purser Hoyt of the steamer John H [illegible] us the following commercial intelligence [illegible] in the river: At Young's river the [illegible] L. Richardson is loading with lumber; at [illegible] bark Almatia and the schooner Peter [illegible] with lumber. The whole for San [illegible].

[illegible]—A little boy, three years old, son of [illegible] residing near Oak Point Mills, was killed [illegible] last. He had followed his uncle, [illegible] a team hauling logs, without his uncle's [illegible]. While passing a short turn in the road, [illegible] on the off side, the log rolled on the child [illegible] but two hours after the accident.

[illegible]—The new steam saw mill of Messrs. [illegible] McKay & Co., six miles west of this city, [illegible] road, under the superintendence of Mr. Ward [illegible] started on Saturday night, and found to work [illegible]. It is expected by the last of this week [illegible] full operation, and is calculated to furnish an [illegible] quality of [illegible].

[illegible] Rates of Revenue.—The amendment to the [illegible] Revenue law increases the rate of duty on [illegible] manufactures one fifth or twenty per cent, over [illegible]. Bullion in lumps, ingots or bars, [illegible] of one per cent, instead of five tenths, as [illegible].

[illegible] of Benj. R. Brown.—The examination of [illegible] Brown commenced yesterday, A. R., bef[illegible] McCoy. Messrs. Stout & Garrison appearing [illegible] Attorney, Hodgkinson, and Messrs. Grover [illegible] for defendant. The trial was postponed [illegible] the arrival of parties from Victoria.

[illegible] iron materials to be used in the build[illegible] Ald. Esq., arrived by the steamship [illegible]. As soon as brick can be procured th[illegible] Mr. John Nestor, architect [illegible] the contract.

[illegible]—The Stockton Independent says [illegible] Montana Territory, was nearly des[illegible] by fire on the 19th May. It was the [illegible] town in Montana.

[illegible]—The steamer [illegible] is a [illegible] but needs repairing [illegible] for that purpose [illegible].

[illegible] Nevada [illegible] Coach [illegible] wharf of the [illegible] San Francisco at [illegible].

About the most impertinent bit of gossip that has lately crept into some of the journals alleged that the assassin Booth was engaged to a daugh[illegible] of the Hon. John P. Hale. The National [illegible] says:

"There is not the slightest truth in the state[illegible]. Booth attempted to force his attentions [illegible] Miss Hale, but she always manifested a de[illegible] dislike to the handsome villain."

Knights of the Golden Circle.—The following letters were found among the debris of Beriah Brown's office at San Francisco, some time ago, when the people of that place entered it:

GRASS VALLEY, Aug. 23d, 1864.

Beriah Brown, Esq.—Dear Sir:—We are very anxious here that you should send us along the 37 arrangements about which I wrote you a week ago. Also send a copy of the alphabet. We are organizing in various parts of the country and will want [illegible] [illegible] still have authority [illegible] I thank we can raise him [illegible].

Please answer soon and by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express. In haste.

Yours truly, J. R. KIDGE.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22, 1864.

Beriah Brown, Esq.—Dear Sir:—Parties in both Placer and Eldorado counties desire that councils of the 37 shall be instituted in those counties and have applied to me to institute them. If you will authorize me to do so, I will visit them soon for the purpose. Should you give me the authority, send me at the same time, several copies of the constitution, instructions, keys, etc.

Yours truly, A. A. BENNETT.

Not a Copperhead can be found throughout the whole country who will not indignantly deny the existence of these Democratic organizations. They can run through the whole gamut of angry and scornful eloquence, when denouncing such societies as the Union League; but innocent patriots as they are, they will try to swear you into a belief that they never do anything covertly, and never have any schemes for the accomplishment of any secret purpose.

The Copperhead Meeting in Polk.—From a person who has seen and conversed with Judge Boise in relation to the indignation meeting which Hon. Haydon and his associates are to hold at Dallas, we learn that the Judge will have nothing to do with the ill-seeming farce. When called upon by one of the deluded dullards who imagine their "liberties in danger," to ascertain whether he would sanction the meeting by his presence, Judge Boise very properly replied that not one half as many had been arrested for rejoicing at the death of the President as ought to be punished, and that if they were the real friends of the persons apprehended they had better stay at home as their violent speech might bring them all into trouble.

The object of the meeting is to try to make a little political capital by misrepresentations in regard to Fulkerson's arrest. Every "Democrat" who has, so far, been arrested, richly deserves punishment. The meeting they propose to hold may do no harm, but Union men will be careful not to associate with Copperheads for the furtherance of such an object as the latter have in view.

The Tennessee Senators.—Joseph S. Fowler and David T. Patterson, have been chosen to the U. S. Senate from Tennessee. The former is a native of Ohio, but has resided in Tennessee for many years. The latter is a Tennessean, and a son in law of President Johnson. Both are radically Union in politics and both have stood by the Government from the very first, contending for the maintenance of the Union in times when it cost something to labor in the cause.

The State of Tennessee will hold an election in August, for members of the lower House of Congress. Hereafter this State now redeemed and purified, will yield to none in the intensity and steadfastness of its devotion to National ideas and Nationality.

Something New about Pompey's Pillar.—A curious discovery has recently been made in attempting to repair the basement of the celebrated monument, Pompey's Pillar which seemed to threaten ruin. M. d'Armand Bry, a French Engineer, having been appointed by the Viceroy of Egypt to direct the work of consolidation, he first of all caused a few of the loose stones forming the basement to be removed with all proper precaution, but it was soon found that these stones had nothing to do with the support of the pillar and that the latter rested entirely on a cube of very hard quartzose puddingstone within the basement. Upon examination it was discovered that this cube bore an inscription in hieroglyphics turned upside down, and was, in fact the capital of a column belonging to one of the temples of upper Egypt and conveyed hither for the express purpose of serving for the base of the column. M. Mariette has deciphered the inscription and found the name of Sesostris mentioned it, so that Pompey's Pillar, now 1500 years old, rests on the fragment of a monument erected at least seventeen centuries before the Christian era. A new basement has now been constructed with a passage all round the stone, so that visitors may inspect the hieroglyphics, and the whole has been railed in to protect the monument from deterioration.—Galignani's Messenger.

Mosby's Last Address to his Troops.—Just before running away the guerrilla leader Mosby issued the following address to his troops:

FAUQUIER, April 21, 1865.

Soldiers:—I have summoned you together for the last time. The vision we have cherished for a free and independent country has vanished, and that country is now the spoil of a conqueror. I disband your organization in preference to surrendering to your enemies. I am no longer your commander. After an association of more than two eventful years I part from you with a just pride in the fame of your achievements and grateful recollections of your generous kindness to myself, and now at this moment of bidding you a final adieu accept the assurance of my unchanging confidence and regard. Farewell.

J. S. MOSBY,
Colonel commanding battalion.

The word "Sozodont," which is fast becoming a household word, is derived from the Greek and composed of two words, Sozo and Odontes. "Sozo," translated, means to preserve, and "odontes," the teeth. "Sozodont," a preserver of the teeth. And it is true to its name. For beautifying and preserving the teeth, hardening and invigorating the gums, and correcting all impurities of the breath, it is without a peer in the world.

THE FLORENCE
Sewing Machines

ARE NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE BY FAR

THE MOST SIMPLY CONSTRUCTED

Easily Managed,

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED

and Durable

FAMILY SEWING MACHINE,

NOW IN USE.

Possessing the Most Desirable Points of all other First-Class Machines, it Surpasses them by the Simplicity of its Construction, and the Ease and Facility with which it Performs a Greater Variety of Work than all other Machines Combined.

IT HEMS, FELLS, GATHERS, BRAIDS, QUILTS and Ornamental Sewing on [illegible] We claim for the FLORENCE the following advantages [illegible] and all Sewing Machines:

1st. It makes four different stitches, the lock, knot, double lock and double knot, on one and the same Machine. Each stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric.

2d. It has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to stay any part of the seam, or fasten the ends of seams without turning the fabric.

3d. Changing the length of stitch, and from one kind of stitch to another, can readily be done while the Machine is in motion.

4th. Every stitch is perfect in itself, making the seam secure and uniform.

5th. It has no slides or levers, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

6th. Its motions are all positive, there can be no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

7th. It will not oil the dress of the operator, as all its machinery is on top of the table.

8th. It is the most rapid sewer in the world, making five stitches to each revolution.

9th. Its stitch is the wonder of all. The seam of its combined elasticity, strength and beauty.

10th. It does the heaviest or finest work with equal facility, without change of tension or stitches.

11th. Every Machine has one of [illegible] each hem [illegible] the right to use [illegible] to the operator [illegible] any width of hem desired.

12th. There is no other Machine which will do so large a range of work as the FLORENCE.

13th. It does not require finer thread on the under side, than on the upper.

14th. The needle is more easily adjusted than in any other Machine.

15th. It will sew across the heaviest seams, or from one to the other, thickness of cloth, without change of tension or breaking of thread.

16th. It is fully protected and licensed by Elias Howe, Jr., and his Associates, and our own Letters Patent.

17th. To avoid the common though bent posture, fine application and fatiguing care heretofore necessary in a large portion of work done on Sewing Machines, we now furnish each Machine with a "Braider and Self-Sewer," which will guide the work itself, and is of incalculable value, especially to those who are inexperienced.

18th. While possessing the above and many other advantages, the FLORENCE is sold at corresponding prices with other first class Machines.

19th. We refrain from publishing the highly complimentary notices of the Press with which we have been favored, and place our Machine before the public, believing that an intelligent examination of its merits will fully substantiate all that we have claimed for it, and justify the assertion that we make, that it is the best Sewing Machine in the world.

20th. We Warrant every Machine to be all that we claim for it, and will give a written warranty if required.

21st. Agents wanted in all the principal towns and towns on the Pacific Coast. With a small investment of capital a profitable business can soon be established.

I Remember, I Remember

I remember, I remember
The house where I was born,
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn;
He never came a wink too soon
Nor brought too long a day;
But now, I often wish the night
Had borne my breath away.

I remember, I remember
The roses—red and white;
The violets and the lily cups—
Those flowers made of light!
The lilacs where the robin built,
And where my brother set
The laburnum on his birthday—
The tree is living yet.

I remember, I remember
Where I was used to swing,
And thought the air must rush as fresh
To swallows on the wing;
My spirit flew in feathers then
That is so heavy now,
And Summer pools could hardly cool
The fever on my brow.

I remember, I remember
The fir trees dark and high;
I used to think their slender tops
Were close against the sky:
It was a childish ignorance,
But now 'tis little joy
To know I'm farther off from Heaven
Than when I was a boy.

The Capture of Armies

The capitulation of General Johnston and his entire force adds the fourth to the list of great armies surrendered to Lieutenant General Grant during the present war.

The first surrender was that of Major General S. B. Buckner at Fort Donelson, on the 16th day of February 1862. Here General Grant captured over 13,000 prisoners, 3,000 horses, nearly 20,000 stand of arms, 48 field pieces, 17 heavy guns, and a great quantity of ordnance and commissary stores.

The second surrender was that of Lieutenant General J. C. Pemberton at Vicksburg, on the 4th day of July 1863. There Grant captured 20 general officers, more than 1,000 other officers, 21,000 effective men, and about 6,000 in hospital—a total of some 31,000 men. Of guns he captured at Vicksburg 128 pieces of field artillery and 90 siege guns, besides 51 field pieces in the battles outside of Vicksburg—a total of [illegible] guns. Of small arms he captured 10,000 in the previous battles, and 30,000 in the surrender—a total of 40,000. The enemy had lost, in the three previous battles, three general officers and at least 10,000 killed and wounded," according to Gen. Grant's official report, and "arms and munitions of war for an army of 60,000 men fell into our hands, besides a large amount of railroads, locomotives, cars, steamboats, cotton, etc., and much was destroyed to prevent our capturing it." The moral, the political and the strategic influence of the fall of Vicksburg was at once unparalleled and incalculable. It immediately and forever opened the Mississippi, and was the first and only permanent "bisection" of the Confederacy during the war. It directly produced the fall of Port Hudson, the satellite fortress of Vicksburg. The former might have been besieged to this day had not Grant conquered the latter. The fall of Port Hudson was as direct a corollary from that of Vicksburg as the surrender of Johnson has been the corollary of the surrender of Lee. To the spoils of Vicksburg we must, therefore, add, from Port Hudson, 5,500 prisoners, 20 heavy guns, 11 field pieces, 41,000 pounds of powder, 150,000 rounds of small arm ammunition, 5,000 stand of arms, two steamers and considerable ordnance and stores.

Passing the Chattanooga campaign and Grant's great victory there, we come to the third regular surrender, by General R. E. Lee, of the entire "Army of Northern Virginia, at Appomattox Court House, on the 9th day of April 1865. 26,000 paroled prisoners, 10,000 stand of small arms, 160 cannon, 70 flags, 1,000 wagons, ambulances and caissons, and 3,000 or 4,000 horses and mules, are the approximate figures of the immediate results of that surrender. But several thousand prisoners were supposed to have gone without parole for want of rations. An army of 60,000 men was, in ten days, all destroyed—killed, wounded, surrendered or forever dispersed. Richmond and Petersburg were carried, Virginia overrun, and the rebellion virtually ended. The reduction of the entire armed forces of the rebellion, "from the Potomac to the Rio Grande," was made an immediate consequence of the surrender at Appomattox Court House.

The fourth surrender was that of Gen. J. E. Johnston, at Durham Station, on the 26th day of April, 1865. Over 25,000 prisoners and over 90 guns, are the partial fruits of this fourth and last surrender.

The surrender of Lee has already directly produced that of nearly or quite all the other forces of the rebellion. Dick Taylor's army has already probably capitulated to Canby on the terms granted to Lee. Kirby Smith has doubtless followed the suit on the other side of the Mississippi. Next will come Price and Magruder, and then a few banditti will be all that remains to tell of the great armies which Grant in one year felled to the earth and crushed.

In these four main surrenders alone, we have astounding achievements to pass to the credit of the Lieutenant General, not only in the great and decisive strategical points gained, but in the material, statistical fruits of the capitulations.—Four armies, more than 100,000 men, 600 guns, 100,000 stand of arms, and material almost too great to be computed, are the results of those four surrenders made to Grant in person. We leave out of the account such items as the surrender of Arkansas Post, with its 5,000 prisoners and 49 guns, and the 6,000 prisoners and 40 guns captured at Chattanooga, and the 3,000 prisoners and 160 guns at Fort Fisher and Wilmington. But not reckoning the killed and wounded, and the troops dispersed by Grant's gigantic battles, the prisoners alone captured directly by him before his promotion, to the Lieutenant Generalcy and by him and his subordinates since that time already surpass the enormous number of 200,000 and the guns captured, are more than 2,000.

Verily, the soldier is entitled to rank in history as the "capturer of armies." Buckner, Pemberton, Lee and Johnston reaped honors in warfare only for Grant to gather. When the other Confederate Generals shall have added their defeats to his renown, there will be other figures to swell the proportions of captures even now almost incredible.

Precisely one year ago this day, Lieutenant General Grant, flinging through the army of the Potomac across the Rapidan for the conquest of Richmond, marched from Chancellorsville and opened that tremendous series of battles known in history as the Battles of the Wilderness. The whole South is now at his feet. Its great armies "melted into thin air."—N. Y. Times.

Interview with the Conquered Rebel Gen. Hardee.—A correspondent of the New York Herald, who was admitted to Jo. Johnston's headquarters at Greensboro, (N. C.), on the 2d of May, wrote home the following statement concerning an interview which he had with the conquered rebel General Hardee:

This morning General Hardee's party left Raleigh at 5 o'clock and reached Durham at half past seven. By invitation they breakfasted with General Kilpatrick, after which they continued on to Greensboro. I accompanied the party from Durham's. General Hardee received me in a very cordial, generous, unreserved manner. He and I talked freely on all subjects of interest at the present time. In speaking of the war he made this remarkable assertion: "Sir, I accept this work as the providence of God. He intended that the slave should be free, and now he is free. Slavery was never a paying institution; I have often told my friends so. For instance, my wife owned about one hundred negroes. Forty of the hundred were useless for work, yet she had to feed these forty, in order to get the work of the other sixty. The negro will be worse off for this war. Will any of our Abolitionists of the North feed and clothe half a dozen little children in order to get the work of a man and a woman? Sir, our people can pay the negroes a fair compensation for their services and let them take care of their own families and then have as much left at the end of the year as we had under the old system."

"General, do you think we will soon have peace?"

"I do. I think the people of the South are anxious for it. They wanted it two years ago. I then saw that our cause could not succeed."

"Will we not have guerrilla warfare?"

"So help me God, sir, if we do I am willing and ready to fight to put an end to it."

"Is the same sentiment entertained by the other General officers who have been in the Confederate service?"

"It is. I have not the slightest doubt but they will use every means they can command to bring quietness and security again in the land. They will in no wise support those who do not obey the laws."

"How will it be in South Carolina?"

"South Carolina is the worst whipped State in the Union."

"But will not her leading spirits control the masses?"

"They, too, are crushed. She has no leading spirits now. Let me impress it upon you that the people of the South want to live in peace with the people of the North, and you will find they will do it. They will do it cheerfully, provided your Government does not resort to harsh measures. If it does resort to such measures I cannot answer for the consequences. We staked our all on the success of our arms and they failed us, and now we are willing to return to and live under the laws of the United States as we find them, although they may not be as we would desire to have them."

"You, then, have no money. What are they going to do?"

"They must go to work. The prospect before them is most gloomy indeed. It will be very hard on old men like me. I cannot now commence a profession."

"Do you think Jeff. Davis was pleased at the assassination of President Lincoln?"

"I do not think he was. The people of the South [illegible] Andy Johnson. [illegible] Lincoln had been in office four years, and knew whom to [illegible]. He had [illegible] learned a [illegible]. He had made a name. He could have [illegible] many things for the South that Johnson cannot. I do not believe that Lincoln was a party man, that is, that he was particularly so. Johnson is a party man. He is now, and the fear is he will be radical. I hope he will act for the good of the country and the whole of the people."

"It is said that Jeff. Davis went off with several millions of specie. Is it so?"

"I cannot particularly say whether it is or not. I know that General Johnston asked Davis to order some of the troops to be paid off in gold, and he replied that he had no control over the money. He said that the most of it had been taken from the Virginia banks, and that when these were again able to receive it he would see that it was properly returned."

"Do you think that if Davis takes the money out of the Confederacy that he will return it to the banks?"

"I think he will."

"Is there much cotton in the South, General?"

"Oh yes. And by the way, let me say that it will oppress the people of the South very much if the Government of the United States confiscates the cotton belonging to private individuals. These people need the cotton and tobacco to commence business on. They are the only articles they have to sell. Give them a chance to sell their cotton and their tobacco and there will be greenbacks introduced and trade will revive. The cotton which the Confederate Government owned I believe is the rightful property of the United States, and I further believe that the people of the South should be honest, and turn that property in to the agents authorized to receive it. One man told me he had some Confederate cotton on his plantation, and that he intended to burn it before the enemy should get possession of it. I told him he would be doing very wrong in committing such an act. On my wife's plantation in Alabama I have some cotton that belonged to the Confederate Government, and which I am well guarding, and will turn it over whenever the United States agents are ready to receive it."

At this juncture a special train with United States troops and Generals Schofield, Cox and Kilpatrick on board, arrived close behind ours at a station where the engine was stopped for wood and water. The second train had left Raleigh at seven A. M., and was also bound for Greensboro. General Hardee and two other rebel officers repaired to the car in which the Union Generals were sitting, whereupon introductions took place and agreeable conversation ensued.

A Tribute to Lincoln.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher contributes an article to the Ledger, from which we extract the following analysis of Lincoln's character:

No voluntary sign of sorrow was half so striking as the unconscious silence of that ever roaring city of New York! A half million people thronged the city on Monday and Tuesday, and filled the streets to suffocation. Yet the presence of the mighty dead kept all so still and gentle that a bird flying over would be unscared by noise, as if it were midnight or a Sabbath day. A martyred President was the city's King. His pulseless hand stretched out a scepter which awed all men to silence! Before that hearse enmities died, jealousies and rivalries cooled and hid, pleasure forgot its rules, avarice its toils, and for more than a week the imperial city that disdained always before to be subdued to any common sentiment, now silently and humbly watched and waited, in all its streets, to offer homage and affection to him, when dead, for whom alive it would never give a vote! As a private citizen, Lincoln would have lived respected, and died lamented as a kind, faithful and honest man, and slept with others in a few years, undistinguishable. He had no such gifts of power as would have raised him, in spite of circumstances, to eminence. His was not a brain that dominated. His will was firm, but not executive nor despotic. His mind was broad and strong, but slow and laborious in its methods. Truths did not break upon him with flash and instant revelation. He saw them far off, obscurely, as nebula, and, like an astronomer, he resolved them by patient observation. Thus, he suspected things to be true long before he was sure, and he was sure long before he had made out the whole matter with distinct accuracy. He traveled with truth in long gestation, but when once it was his he loved it with intense paternal instinct. His wisdom was moral wisdom. His power and success sprung from moral qualities. It was not intellect, but manhood that ennobled him. Lincoln is perhaps the most eminent instance since the days of Washington of a man made great by the inherent wisdom of true goodness. And such a nature can scarcely be delineated apart and separate from the events of that history which called out his virtues. This is particularly true of Lincoln for two reasons. First, because his excellence did not assume the form of a few bold qualities, but was the sum of many simpler qualities maintained under great trial and provocation, and, secondly, because we are now just beginning to see the moral character of those bad men against whom we acted.

A New Enemy of War.—As the famous elephant Hannibal, was on his way to Washington, recently he passed through a portion of Maryland where an elephant had never been seen, causing great astonishment, and sometimes consternation. One ancient female contraband, on suddenly encountering the huge beast, started back in amazement, and after a moment's examination of the "critter," threw up her hands, exclaiming, with the utmost gravity, "Bress de Lord, what tings dey do get up for dis war!" She was under the full impression that old Hannibal was a new fangled invention got up to crush out the rebellion.

Personal Intelligence.—The New York Herald of May 2d says:

Among the passengers yesterday in the Fulton, for Hilton Head, South Carolina, was Associate Justice Wayne, of the United States Supreme Court, who returned to his home in Savannah for the first time in over four years. Since the rebellion he has stood firm for the Union and the Government, and visits his home again under the old flag.

THE WORLD RENOWNED
SINGER SEWING MACHINES!
MANUFACTORY
[illegible] street, New York.
[illegible] The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth and with all kinds of Thread.
Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public begin to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work would also be the elements to combine in a Family Machine.
We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making like them the interlocked stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.
FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.
All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLET, which is entirely devoted to the subject. IT WILL BE SENT GRATIS.

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.
ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing disease of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED
In One Minute.
NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.
F. TILLMAN, Esq., 218 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.
DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the security of the Lillie Lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men [illegible] one of Lillie's best and locks after it had been locked and [illegible]

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.
The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this certificate to our friends may not be deceived by false representations.
Respectfully yours,
A. F. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

[illegible], March 26, 1864.
Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his
So Called "Fire Proof Safes."
On the 18th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and with them our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called safe was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.
We send you the safe with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one [illegible] is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be In Perfect Condition.
This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring [illegible] no better than ours.
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed.) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

TILTON & M'FARLAND'S
SAFE,
The Only Protection
Against Fire and Burglars.
For the last Fift[illegible] Years
This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that No Man ever Lost a Dollar
out of one of our Safes by means of Burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.
A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at 218 Battery Street, San Francisco.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL,
San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Disease (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.
DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb. Place, Pad.; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.
DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.
DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.
DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.
Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let patients, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.
Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 251.

Prevention Better than Cure.
The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Box [illegible]
Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institute in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way [illegible] to make an inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you much regret; for, as advertising physicians, in nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them, unless you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus certificates, pretended patients, letters, etc. [illegible]
